clothing for care

Designed to make dressing quicker and easier for wearer and carer

Men's Trousers

Adaptawear designs and manufactures 3 styles of men's trousers. Depending on individual needs choose from the Trouble-free, Drop-front and Open-back styles.

Men's Drop-Front Trousers

These casual fit trousers have a discreet front opening which opens down past the hips giving plenty of leg access during assisted or independent dressing.

With a high back for comfort, and a gape free appearance, no-one would guess that you are wearing anything other than conventional trousers.

The easy-touch fastening at both sides of the waistband makes the front panel quick and easy to drop, ideal when using a bottle and toileting from a seated position. Or use the optional, detachable elastic waistband to support the trouser back when toileting standing.

Available in four fabric choices, these drop-front trousers all offer the same practical Adaptawear features.

Choose from:

- Polyviscose - for a smart tailored look
- Corduroy - smart and casual (see p3)
- Denim Jeans - hardwearing and casual (see p3)

Open-Back Trousers

Open-back trousers mean seated dressing could not be easier.

Adaptawear's open-back trousers look entirely normal but they are far easier to put on than conventional trousers.

Simply draw the trousers up the legs and then overlap the 2 large flaps at the back to preserve the wearer's dignity.

These open-back trousers are ideal for men with continence problems or who require hoisting.

- The 2 large flaps overlap to cover the lower back and tuck under the seat
- Full elasticated waistband for greater comfort
- The style of the Open-Back Trousers provides a very generous fit
